Editor's Window

Sunday is Mother's Day.
And this is Be Kind to Animals Week.

It generates a compelling urge to run around and pat the little creatures on the head, or scratch their backs. If, however, such an urge overtakes one in the zoo, it should be succumbed to only with reasonable discretion. If it overtakes one in the jungles, it perhaps should be kept under quite stern control.

I hope you understand that I am speaking of celebrating Be Kind to Animals Week.

Mothers are something else, entirely. Although, come to think of it, animals can be mothers, too. It's extremely confusing.

For instance, patting one's mother on the head, while giving a box of chocolates to a female giraffe, attended by her young, could suggest a devastating sense of whimsy. But it might cause so much consternation in most segments of society, and require so many explanations, that it is inadvisable. There is no harm, however, in thinking about it.

If the Be Kind impulse should fix your attention on a dolphin or a whale, I'm afraid I can't be of much help to you (this is frustrating to an editor). By and large, they are friendly animals, though they are also known to be fastidious about the company they keep, and perfect bores about such things as diet. So, chocolates might not appeal at all, and something really ostentatious, such as a refrigerator, could be altogether misunderstood.

But since these particular animals are generally remote, and don't hang around in one place for very long, about the best you can probably do is to wave at them in a friendly fashion. Or compromise, and read with an open mind something by Albert Payson Terhune.

I am rather disappointed that this should constitute my first thoughts about Be Kind to Animals Week. Editors, you know, usually lunge at such occasions in a passion of conditioned reflexes — a perfect ecstasy of quivering nostrils, moist lips, shining eyes and glowing bathos. It is one time when they can take a fearless stand on both sides of a one-sided issue without appearing to be irrefutable.

Editors display emotions about Mother's Day for the same reason that they like the Fourth of July. Well, not exactly. You see, on the Fourth of July they can urge everybody to be patriotic. Their exhortations on Mother's Day, however, have to be a little bit more discriminatory. Though in a restricted way they can be equally enthusiastic, they must choose their message with some prejudice.

But not necessarily so with Be Kind Week. That was all right years ago, when angry men went around beating horses and starving dogs and scowling at cats. But since the advent of automobiles, Dr. Ross, and Walt Disney's nature series, nobody does those things anymore. Everybody is kind to everything but people. And it has led to disaster.

Sunset School—A Symbol And An Opportunity For Carmel

By LARRY ROSE
PART IV

In the preceding three articles of this series we expressed a fond ambition that Sunset School should evolve from a grammar school into a center of the seven arts, or arts and sciences, once the Carmel Unified School District abandons it.

We also expressed our conviction that the City should be the agency to pick it up when it is relinquished. But we stated quite emphatically our conviction that the city should remain paternalistic in its relationship to the school site, and implied that it should not intrude its own functions onto the scene. There are many reasons for this.

The first reason is almost self-evident: there is a limited amount of room. Even though the two-block site constitutes almost five acres in extent, much of which is presently open and being used as playgrounds, a center of the magnitude we envision — and it is imperative that the center be of the first magnitude — is going to require room for improvements, as well as room for off-street parking. (With respect to off-street parking, there probably isn't enough there now for a major center, certainly not enough to share with some other operation. There is a solution, but its discussion at the moment would be premature and diversionary.)

No Room

So, there is simply not enough room at Sunset for both an arts center and the housing of city government agencies and services. Furthermore, they are not mutually attractive. Not only is politics not an art — though it is frequently practiced as if somebody thought it was — but as landlord and tenant, the City would be continually banging elbows with the arts center.

One or the other should take over the space exclusively, and it is absurd for the city to consider it for itself.

The City already owns two-thirds of the block bounded by Junipero, Fourth Avenue, Torres and Fifth Avenue. Not only has this site been found adequate for the containment of all city services, but the stimulating economic effect on adjoining property, were a civic center to be built there, would be appreciable. And that, incidentally, is where the General Plan says it should be placed.

The Gravel Pit

The land is conservatively estimated as being worth $300,000. It is being used today as a stockpile site by the Street Department, probably the most expensive gravel pit on the west coast. This is not the department's fault. They were kicked out of their old canyon site, and the city has never since been able to muster enough imagination to figure out what to do about this dilemma.

The Junipero location could be all right, but only as part of a reasonable concentration of all city government operations. In addition to the street department, the City Clerk, the Building Inspector, the Police Department, and the City Council itself could be contained in a civic center erected there; furthermore, space might be let to the Sanitary District, and probably the municipal court bailiff would have her office there.

Dissipating Assets

But two whole blocks, worth a half million dollars, with buildings on them worth perhaps that much again, are not necessary or even remotely justifiable for this simple contingent of government. It would be a deplorable extravagance, and it would be a disgraceful dissipation of assets. For there is no place else for a major art center to go in Carmel, although there are many places for the government agencies to go. Not the most novel proposal is that they remain where they are.

Bert Heron, Valerie Hattery Wed Tuesday

By ANDRE HOPE

Seven o'clock Tuesday evening was the time and the date. The Carmel Presbyterian Church was the place. Herbert Heron, distinguished Carmel resident, and Mrs. Valerie Hattery were joined in marriage by Dr. George Hunter Hall.

The bridegroom's preference for roses and carnations set the floral and color scheme. The bride was gown in shades of pink and lavender, and marked the Beatitudes and the Ten Commandments in her prayer book with orange and yellow roses. She was attended by Rowena Dierksen of Berkeley. Kenneth W. Jensen, of the same city, was best man.

The ceremony, set to music by soloist Karen Steinke Reid and organist James Farlinger, included the selections, "Oh Perfect Love," "The Pilgrim's Song," and excerpts from "The Messiah." Immediate family members and close friends who attended the wedding also shared in the reception which followed at La Playa Hotel.

The couple are honeymooning in that idyllic setting—Carmel.

The bride, before coming to live in Carmel, was a resident of Chicago, where she was worthy advisor to the Order of Rainbow Girls, an officer of the Order of the Eastern Star, and vice president. (Continued on Page Thirteen)

Mother's Day Conversation

"I think that I shall never see my mother high up in a tree..."

"Who wrote that?"

"James Joyce, I think."

"No. You mean Joyce Kilmer."

"Oh? Who is she?"

One of the greatest cultural events in the history of the Monterey Peninsula will occur on 31 August if negotiations presently under way are completed by a deadline of the middle of next week, the Pine Cone discovered yesterday.

Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic Orchestra will give a performance at the Monterey County Fairgrounds that night.

It will be the only West Coast appearance other than in Los Angeles, of the accomplished and exciting conductor and the distinguished orchestra which has found great stature under his baton.

The Academy of Achievement, a Monterey group which suffered disastrous losses sponsoring a big dinner event last year, has accomplished a coup in securing the attraction, and should make significant inroads into liquidating its indebtedness.

At the moment, a loan has been promised, in order that guarantees may be posted for the orchestra, and Academy officials are seeking reputable co-signers to secure the note.

The performance will be given in the Horse Show arena of the Fairgrounds, a 7,000-seat amphitheater in which the world-famous Jazz Festival, among other attractions, has been held.

MPC Fight Again Breaks Into Open

Charges of incompetency, arising out of the smoking and unsanitary feud between Dr. Fred Huber, president of Monterey Peninsula College, and practically everybody else, may be heard tonight before a special meeting of the College Board of Trustees, at 7:30 p.m., in the library meeting hall on the campus.

These particular charges are made by Huber against Philip Chamberlin, head of the evening division of the college. Chamberlin, through his attorney, Charles Stewart of Carmel, has asked that they be presented publicly.

But Stewart tonight will seek to convince the Board that the hearing should be postponed until such time as the Board and the California Teachers' Association, in separate investigations, complete comprehensive inquiries into the seething dispute between the faculty and Huber.

It is Chamberlin's belief that Huber's charges against him cannot be distinguished from the general disagreement, even though the Board might wish to. "The charges are simply a smoke screen," Stewart has asserted on behalf of Chamberlin, "to distract attention from the friction and trouble at the college centered principally in the evening division."

"Mr. Chamberlin feels the charges are vague, and furthermore, that they are unfounded and can readily be refuted." But Stewart has emphasized that this should be done within the context of the whole problem, which the inquiries will bring into perspective when completed.

CITY COUNCIL SCANS SUNSET SCHOOL AS SITE FOR CULTURAL - CIVIC USES

The City Council last night received a report recommending, in effect, that Sunset School should become all things to all men. And to some of the kids, too.

Submitted by an ad hoc committee (Putnam and Whittlesey), it suggested that the two-block complex, once acquired from the School District, should be used as a "cultural facility" combined with city administration offices, a playground for children, and a parking lot.

But, the report concluded, nothing should be earnestly contemplated until an engineering survey has been made, which might cost $1,000.

In surprisingly vehement accents, Councilman James Buffington, Jr., said, "One thousand dollars is a lot to spend for an investigation unless we know if the public is interested."

Mayor Eben Whittlesey tartly inquired, "And how do you suggest that we test that opinion?"

"I have no suggestions," grunted Buffington.

When Whittlesey persisted, saying that the committee had received "significant" encouragement on the idea, Buffington insisted, "Are we ready to spend for what I don't know—if we need it or not?" It was a difficult question to answer.

It became impossible to answer, for the moment, when it developed that the $1,000 might not be sufficient for the purpose. The gentlemen of the Council concluded, somewhat guardedly, that the committee should inquire about the actual cost of such a survey, and in the meanwhile they would go to the school, on the 17th, at 4:00 p.m., and look over the situation.

Hostelry Tax

On the matter of a review of the results of the first two quarters' collections on the 3% hostelry tax, statements made to the Council indicated that the Motel Owners Association is in disagreement with the Carmel Business Association and the Carmel Realty Board on the disposition of some of the proceeds, which by law must go to objects of the General Plan. Whereas the latter two groups want to see some of the proceeds used to provide off-street parking — which is not presently on the plan — the former argues that the motels are providing off-street parking already, and the money should be used strictly for what it was originally intended.

Valley Site For Kip School

Bishop Kip School, the highly successful and, at one time, highly controversial school temporarily using facilities at All Saints' Church on Dolores and Ninth Avenue, has found a permanent home and will be closing its Carmel operations at the end of the present semester.

GOVERNMENT

Spencer Sworn In

Was Francis Whitaker's seat on the City Council vacated or not by his departure for residence in Aspen, Colorado, two weeks ago?

City Attorney John Morse, at a special meeting of the Council last Thursday afternoon, said that the Government Code provides that when an elected official ceases to be an inhabitant, his seat is vacant, and added that the Code also provides that the Council is the judge of the qualifications of its members.

It was an adequate cue. Councilman Frank Putnam moved that the Council take notice of the letter from Whitaker advising of his departure, and declare the seat vacant. The motion carried.

Then, Mayor Eben Whittlesey acknowledged that, in an executive meeting on 20 March, Robert P. Spencer had been chosen as Whitaker's successor, if and when his resignation or disqualification became a fact. Thereupon, Councilman Herbert B. Blanks moved to appoint a successor rather than call a special election.

Putnam favored an appointment because a special election would cost, according to him, in excess of $1,000, even though the last regular election did not cost that much. He believed, further, that the time consumed in calling and conducting an election would leave the successful candidate only about six months in office before the regular election next April. He expressed a concluding belief that the City Council, by making an appointment, would save the public from a burden.

Whittlesey, who said he would not base his decision on the cost of an election, believed that a special election would not produce "representative" candidates.

These were answering echoes to Whitaker's opinion, expressed last month, that "the people should be permitted to make their mistakes."

A petition was then presented, purported to contain 118 names, of which 55 had been found to have addresses inside the City, asking that a special election be held. One of its sponsors was Cliff Phelps, of Monte Verde and Tenth Avenue, an acknowledged aspirant to a Council seat. Phelps was present in the council chamber but did not speak as the Council passed summarily to the motion of Blanks to appoint Robert P. Spencer for the remainder of Whitaker's term. The motion carried unanimously, and City Clerk Arthur Plaxton thereafter swore in Spencer, who is his brother-in-law.

Always A Bridesmaid

Councilman James Buffington, Jr., has, in a political sense, some experience of the tender fate of being always a bridesmaid but never a bride. Last night, for the second time in his career as a Councilman, he was elected Vice Mayor by his peers, succeeding now-Coloradan Francis Whitaker.

Buffington was also Vice Mayor during the last two years of an earlier term in office, from 1958 to 1960, when the late John Chitwood was Mayor.

At the same time that the Council acted on Buffington's new honor, Mayor Eben Whittlesey appointed new Councilman Robert P. Spencer as Commissioner of Health. The commissionerships carry no special authority; they are merely one-member committees, as distinguished from the two-member standing committees.

Unfair Fairs

Assemblyman Alan Pattee (R. Salinas) has made public a copy of the letter sent by him to R. E. Walker, chairman of the Racing Committee of the Western Fairs Association. According to Pattee, the letter was occasioned by the action of the Western Fairs Association in opposing his bills, AB 1963, 1964, and 1965, despite the fact that he was prepared to amend fairs out of them.

Pattee stated, "I am fed up with both the major tracks and the fairs. If the major tracks can talk the fairs into opposing my bills and any amendments to them, and the fairs are dumb enough to go along, I guess it's their own business, but I think the members of the Legislature and the public have a right to know the facts."

"Fairs have gotten to be somewhat of a sacred cow around the Legislature, and I guess it has gone to their heads. Now, it has come to the point where they apparently think they can tell the Legislature that it must continue to vote them money, but has no right to interfere with their operations, and that they know the best interests of the horsemen better than the horsemen themselves. I have introduced three bills which would put all racing money in the General Fund, prohibit any fair with racing from receiving more money from the state than it contributes in racing revenue, and provide for the direct operation of all fair racing by the Horse Racing Board.

"I also intend to introduce a resolution which would authorize the Assembly to conduct a thorough interim investigation of the whole fair situation, and finally, to push as hard as I can for the passage of AB 1963, 1964, and 1965 in spite of the opposition of any special interest groups."

BUSINESS

Unusual Honor

The charming Swedish restaurant, "Birgit and Dagmar," on Dolores north of Seventh Avenue has just been recognized with an unusual honor designation in the "Mobil Travel Guide," a publication by Simon and Schuster, which rates restaurants, motels, resorts, hotels and attractions by many of the same methods and standards as its famed European counterpart, "Guide Michelin."

The special recognition accorded "Birgit and Dagmar" is a check mark symbol indicating an unusually good value. Only 45 restaurants among the thousand or more in America listed in the guide were similarly honored. The same recognition was extended to 132 motels, 18 hotels and one resort, none of which were on the Monterey Peninsula.

HEALTH

Fish Quarantine

Myron W. Husband, M.D., Director of Public Health for Monterey County, has announced that a quarantine of mussels for human consumption has been established by the State Department of Public Health.

The quarantine has been placed on the entire California shore line, including the coastal waters of Monterey County. It will be in effect from 1 May through 31 October, 1963, and will prohibit the taking or selling of mussels for food during that time. However, mussels may be used for bait during this period, provided they are broken open at the time they are gathered and are placed in containers labeled "Mussels may contain Poison. Unfit for human food."

The poison found in plankton, which serves as food for mussels and clams, is an alkaloid such as strychnine and can prove fatal to persons eating the toxic shellfish. This plankton may be in the ocean water in varying degrees during the entire year, but it is usually present in greater amounts during the warmer summer months.

Look what happened in Uganda. The cotton farmers started raising livestock. Then they had to shoot the lions who came to eat the livestock. So administrators created game preserves to sort of tidy up things and keep a few lions around. Then, in order that lions might have something to eat, they prohibited brush fires, so that the small animals upon which the lions fed — when they weren't eating the farmer's chickens and pigs — would have delicious grasses to eat while waiting for the lions to eat them.

Now, Nature, which was always fooling around with fire, used to get careless and change forests into savannas, and diversify the grasslands into open glades. But man's earnest guarding against fires permitted the growth of rank and uneatable grasses, and most of the animals, on whom all this kindness was lost, moved elsewhere. Except for the hippopotamuses. Suddenly there was a plague of hippopotamuses. (And don't think motherhood didn't have something to do with that.)

Before Kindness came on the scene, the hippopotamus population was kept in check by the local inhabitants — as friendly as most people, but not having much time to think about it — who killed those they needed for meat and hides. When this was stopped by the Kindly game warden, and the chief predator was consequently neutralized (quite apart from the lions, more of which were being shot than before to keep them from devouring the livestock) the hippopotamuses started to multiply. In a short while they grazed off all of the grass, bushes and trees, leaving bare ground and friendless thorn scrub.

I remark about this not as an incitement to shoot mothers. What I've tried to say is beware of hippopotamuses who refuse to eat thorn bushes.

When recorded history began, man was making almost as good leather as is made today.

PARKING LOTS --- ARE THEY ENHANCING THE CITY?

WELL-DESIGNED AND COMPLIMENTARY to the environment of the neighborhood is the Pine Inn parking lot at Monte Verde and Sixth Avenue, featuring attractive fencing, landscaping and considerable rockwork terracing. From eye level on the street, no vehicles are in evidence, other than through the entrances.

On 22 May, the City Council will hold a public hearing on an ordinance establishing controls over the appearance and use of parking lots in the business district. The Pine Cone, commencing next week, will feature a series of articles examining the utility, appearance and the relation of parking lots to the business environment.

PAVED BUT OTHERWISE UNIMPROVED, the parking lot at Mission and Seventh does nothing to make its particular neighborhood attractive. Consequently, it presents a harsh and dreary utilitarian nakedness that drags down the area. The use is there, but it is unpleasantly presented.

EVENTS

"At Home"

Wednesday, 22 May, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., the Carmel Valley Women's Club will sponsor a tour of a sampling of the many beautiful homes and establishments in the Valley, benefiting the Carmel Valley Community Youth Center.

According to Mrs. Boyd Huff, chairman, among the homes to be visited will be those of Ruth Dodd, Mrs. T. A. Work, Mrs. Lucille Hobson, the Richard Dick home and the Inga-Britt Ringrose home. John Ralph Geddis' and Francois Martin's Tantamount Theatre, renowned in California for its setting and decor, will hold open house, including a back-stage tour. Coffee will be served from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. at Robles Del Rio Lodge, and tea from 2 to 5 p.m.

Tickets for the tour may be obtained from the Carmel Women's Club, Box 409, Carmel Valley; in Carmel from Laura Chester, realtor, or Blum's on Ocean Avenue.

For those who need transportation from Carmel, it will be available at Junipero and Ocean at 9:30 a.m., returning at 2:30 p.m. There will be a small charge. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Vera Stokes, OL 9-4286.

This annual event is "smorgasbord" for the many who like to sample the best in home decor and architecture.

Campus-by-the-Sea

The spectacular Pacific coastline will be the "campus" of an unusual program, "The Ocean as an Environment," scheduled 16-30 June by University of California Extension.

A staff of distinguished marine scientists will direct the two-week field program which will offer on-the-spot study of the coast at Asilomar on the Monterey Peninsula. Participants will work in small groups to study the organisms of the intertidal and shore areas as well as the geology and ornithology of the coastline. Faculty lectures, films, color slides, and laboratory work will supplement the field studies.

Faculty members will be University of California zoologist Richard A. Boolootian; U.C. geologist Mark N. Christensen; Howard W. Cogswell, assistant professor, Mills College department of biological sciences; Joel Hedgpeth, director of the Dillon Beach Pacific Marine Station, University of the Pacific; George Oberlander, professor of biology, San Francisco State College; and Joseph L. Reid, research scientist with Scripps Institution of Oceanography.

The program will offer two units of university credit. Enrollment forms and information regarding accommodations at Asilomar may be obtained from University of California Extension, Berkeley 4, California.

Cancer Drive Progress

"We are very much pleased with Carmel's effort," state Mrs. Gloria Souther and W. Cliff Phelps, co-chairmen of the Peninsula-wide American Cancer Society drive. As of Monday, nearly $5,000 had been collected in the greater Carmel area, with further contributions coming in daily. Carmel Valley's total stood at something over $2,000 on Monday.

In the county as a whole, 85 per cent of the quota, or $36,000, was reached on Monday. Monterey County's quota is $42,000.

SCHOOLS

Academy Hopefuls

Openings for California young men interested in a career in the Army, Air Force and Merchant Marine will be available this year through U.S. Senator Thomas H. Kuchel.

The senior California Senator has announced that he will nominate aspirants for admission in 1964 to the service academies at West Point, Colorado Springs, and Kings Point, Long Island. Kuchel will not name any candidates for the Naval Academy class entering next year.

Because he makes selections on the result of scholastic tests given by the U.S. Civil Service Commission, Kuchel has asked young men wanting to compete for entrance to the service institutions to advise him by 3 June. Upon receipt of word they wish to take the examinations, the California lawmaker has said he will send questionnaires to obtain needed biographical information. The tests are scheduled for 8 July and will be held in many California cities.

Kuchel will send the names of ten students to the Merchant Marine Academy, four to West Point and six to the Air Force Academy. Final selections will be made by admissions officials at the individual institutions.

All California youths interested in being considered for any of the openings should write Kuchel at the Senate Office Building, Washington 25, D.C.

MUSEUMS

SF Menu

Art exhibits of unusual interest are in store for visitors to San Francisco's museums during May.

Photography — Camera fans will be interested in a notable exhibition at the de Young Museum, the third exhibition of "Photography in the Fine Arts" which includes works by 122 photographers, amateur and professional, among whom are 10 Californians.

Books — A display of 100 books from the Grabhorn Press, one of San Francisco's fine printing houses, will be shown at the de Young, 19 May-9 June. The exhibit is being circulated throughout the country by the Smithsonian Institution.

Sculpture — A collection of 115 bronze sculptures by Jacques Lipchitz, noted Lithuanian-born artist. A retrospective selected by Lipchitz himself will be on view at the San Francisco Museum of Art through 2 June. An Emil Nolde retrospective, organized by the New York Museum of Art, will open there 23 May for a one-month showing.

Treasure — "Treasures of Versailles," a collection of 184 paintings, sculptures and decorative objects from the famed Palace of Versailles in France, will be shown at the California Palace of the Legion of Honor starting 25 May and continuing through 7 July.

Admission charges of 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children will be charged for both the Lipchitz and Versailles exhibitions.

PLAY BALL!

TEAMS, OFFICIALS AND SPECTATORS mass for the opening ceremonies of the 1963 season of Little League baseball in Carmel, at the field south of the Carmel Mission Basilica.

LITTLE LEAGUE SEASON OPENS

Last Saturday morning, the Carmel Little League opened its 1963 season with appropriate ceremony and exciting baseball.

Following an invocation by Father Roger Dieudonne of Carmel Mission Basilica, greetings from Carmel Mayor Eben Whittlesey, and remarks by League president, Dr. Charles Pearson, Pilot Market took the field to whip Wilder and Jones, 8-4. After this game, the P. A. Macs shut out Turner and McEldowney, 3-0.

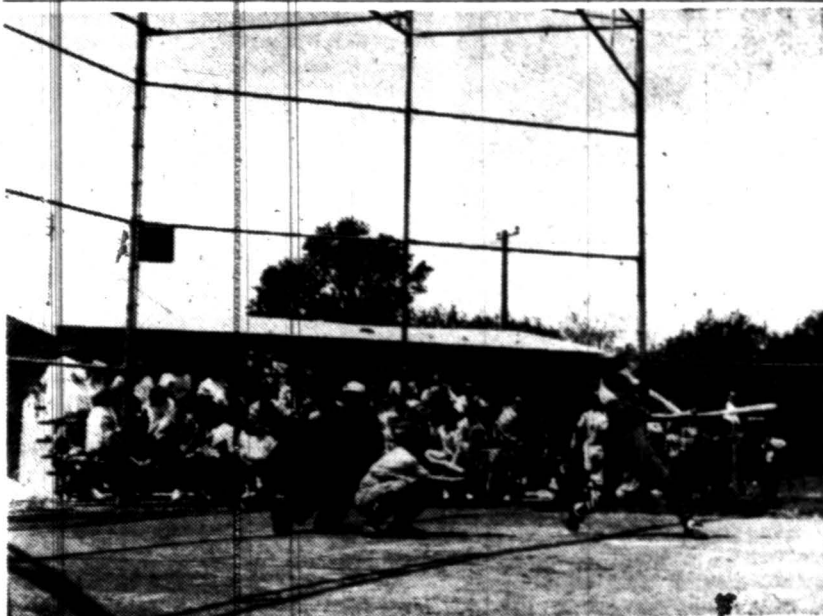

In a tight game preceding the opening ceremonies, Boys' Town blanked the Sport Shop, 1-0.

On Monday, the victorious P. A. Macs, showing strong opening form, battered the hapless Sport Shop, 3-1.

On Tuesday, Wilder & Jones and the Turner & McEldowney aggregations fought one another for two hours, then had to accept a 1-1 tie, when the game was called.

suggestion, for there is one agency which should move; or rather, which should move a part of its functions. That agency is the Harrison Memorial Library.

The Bursting Bustle

The library is bursting its bustle. Also, the continual grating of school students against adults in a sensitive literary environment is causing some concern among the professional staff, the Library Board and the devoted patrons of the library.

It is of more than incidental importance that much of the student activity at the library is occasioned by the peculiar study requirements of the local school system, which oblige students to do a considerable amount of research which cannot be performed at their school libraries, because of class scheduling and the lack of adequate facilities in the schools. The school system is depending on the Harrison Library, but not doing very much to carry a share of the load. If, however, the library became the "fulcrum" or anchor of an arts center, as previously proposed, and the student activities were centered there, a solution covering many problems might be achieved.

First, the library would not be compelled to go out and purchase $50,000 or $60,000 worth of land for an annex. The equivalent funds could instead be put into books and equipment.

There is no need to buy more land. There is enough already for every conceivable need of the city and the art center. But injudicious use of the land, or failure to use it all, could knock out the center altogether, and leave the city wallowing in land surpluses worth more than a million dollars, sprawling extravagantly all over the place in a disappointing emulation of federal grandeur.

Second, the School District, in negotiating for the disposal of the property, could — and should — make an allowance in cost for a library situated on the site. This would, in effect, be the District's contribution toward the burden which it has imposed on the much smaller city agency. It would also give the library a firm and unsailable reason for continuing to service the research needs of school children who live outside of the city, a service for which it has periodically been reproached.

Conclusion

In the end, such a program would provide the arts center with sufficient room for present and future needs; it would give the library spacious accommodations in a good location, without having to spend considerable sums to obtain them; it would give the arts center its necessary point of focus (the library); and the city could concentrate its governmental operations on land already owned and requiring no further capital outlay.

The city would then still have the present City Hall site, worth probably $135,000, and the present police department site, worth perhaps $70,000, to liquidate. This would yield in excess of $200,000 to improve the Junipero site without raising a penny of tax for bonds or direct assessments.

And, lastly, the use of the Sunset School site for an integrated arts center might conceivably pay for itself; or at least, it would pay back a major part of its cost. Municipal government, which will never be anything but a non-profit operation, never will be able to do that.

This is the end of a series. It could also be the end of a dream, or the beginning of one. This somehow will be resolved in one way or another by the enthusiasm—or lack of it — that is generated by the community spirit in Carmel.

NOTICE OF IMPROVEMENT LOCAL IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT NO. 11

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on the 4th day of February, 1963, the Sanitary Board of the Carmel Sanitary District, Monterey County, California, adopted its Resolution of Intention No. 612 wherein it did declare that in its opinion the public interest and convenience required, and that it was the intention of said Board to order the acquisitions and improvements in and for said District as hereinafter described.

All of said work and improvements are to be constructed at the places and in the particular locations, of the forms, sizes, dimensions and materials, and at the lines, grades and elevation shown and delineated on the plans, profiles and specifications preliminarily approved therefor by the Sanitary Board of said District and on file for public inspection in the office of the Secretary.

Notice is hereby given of the fact that in many cases said work and improvements will bring the finished surface of the ground to a grade different from the surface as it now exists, and that to said extent said grades will be changed and that said work will be done to said changed grades.

Said contemplated acquisitions and improvements, in the opinion of said Board, are of more than local or ordinary public benefit, and the costs and expenses thereof are made chargeable upon an assessment district, the exterior boundaries of which, district are the composite and consolidated area shown on the map thereof on file in the office of the Secretary of the District to which reference is hereby made for further particulars.

The acquisitions and improvements are described as follows:

(a) The acquisition of a sanitary sewage pump station site located adjacent to the southerly line of an existing private road, which private road lies westerly of the northerly terminus of North San Antonio Avenue and between North San Antonio Avenue and Carmel Bay, and running generally parallel to the northerly boundary of the Carmel Sanitary District at a point 50 feet, more or less, easterly of the westerly terminus of said private road, and the construction on said site of a sanitary sewage pumping station together with all utilities and appurtenances necessary therefor, and the construction of a sanitary sewerage force main in easements to be acquired from said pump station site easterly along the southerly line of said private road 100 feet, more or less, to an existing property line, running thence southerly along existing property lines and their southerly extension and across lands of the City of Carmel-By-The-Sea 240 feet, more or less, running thence easterly across the lands of the City of Carmel-By-The-Sea and along existing property lines 350 feet, more or less, to a point of connection with an existing sanitary sewer manhole in North San Antonio Avenue, which manhole lies southerly 370 feet, more or less, of the northerly terminus of North San Antonio Avenue, together with the construction and installation of a sanitary sewer collection main together with standard manholes and standard manhole frames and covers and appurtenances in easements to be acquired adjacent to the above described force main from a point 130 feet, more or less, westerly of said manhole in North San Antonio Avenue and along property lines and their westerly extension 205 feet, more or less, across the lands of the City of Carmel-By-The-Sea, thence from said point southeasterly across the lands of the City of Carmel-By-The-Sea 140 feet, more or less, and from said point northerly and across the lands of the City of Carmel-By-The-Sea and adjacent to the property line 240 feet, more or less, to the southerly side of said private road, thence from said point along the southerly side of said existing private road and past the sewage pumping station site 155 feet, more or less, to the westerly terminus of said private road, and thence northeasterly along the southerly side of said private road 130 feet, more or less, to an existing property line, running thence easterly along said property line 105 feet, more or less.

(b) The making of all acquisitions and the performing of all work auxiliary to any of the above which may be necessary to complete the same.

The estimated cost of said project is $43,365. The District will contribute toward the cost of installing the pneumatic ejector station the approximate amount of $15,000.

Notice is hereby given that serial bonds to represent unpaid assessments and bear interest at the rate of not to exceed six per cent (6%) per annum, will be issued hereunder in the manner provided in the Improvement Bond Act of 1915 (Division 10 of the Streets and Highways Code), the last installment of which bonds shall mature not to exceed fourteen (14) years from the second day of July next succeeding ten months from their date.

The descriptions of the acquisitions and improvements and the termini of the work contained in the Resolution of Intention are general in nature. All items of work do not necessarily extend for the full length of the description thereof. The plans and profiles of the work, and maps and descriptions as contained in the Engineer's report, shall be controlling as to the correct and detailed description thereof.

Except as herein otherwise provided for the issuance of bonds, said work shall be done pursuant to the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913.

Reference is hereby made to proceedings had pursuant to Division 4 of the Streets and Highways Code, all on file in the office of the Secretary.

Notice is further given that the District Engineer pursuant to said Act and said Resolution of Intention, adopted pursuant thereto, did on the 6th day of May, 1963, file with the Secretary of said District his report in writing on said acquisitions and improvements, consisting of plans, profiles, specifications, estimate of costs and incidental expenses, diagram and assessment, maps and descriptions, and said Board did on said date consider and examine said report and by resolution preliminarily approved and confirmed same and ordered that said report shall stand as the report for the purposes of all subsequent proceedings had pursuant to said Resolution of Intention.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that Thursday, the 13th day of June, 1963, at the hour of 7:30 o'clock P.M. of said day, in the regular meeting place of said

NOTICE INVITING SEALED PROPOSALS OR BIDS LOCAL IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT NO. 11

Pursuant to the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913, and the resolution directing this notice adopted on May 6, 1963, by the Sanitary Board of the Carmel Sanitary District, said Board invites sealed proposals or bids for the construction of a pneumatic ejector station complete, sanitary sewer force main and collection main, with standard manholes with frames and covers and all appurtenances as more particularly described in Resolution of Intention No. 612 adopted by said Board on February 4, 1963, which resolutions are on file in the office of the Secretary and to which reference is hereby expressly made for a more particular description of the work to be done.

All of said work is to be done at the places and in the particular locations, of the forms, sizes and dimensions and of the materials, and to the lines and grades and at the elevations as shown and delineated upon the plans, profiles and specifications made therefor and preliminarily approved by said Board on May 6, 1963.

Payments will be made in cash by said District to the contractor in accordance with the provisions of the specifications and on itemized estimates duly certified and approved by the District Engineer submitted in accordance therewith, based on labor and materials incorporated into said work during the preceding month by the contractor.

Notice is hereby given that on May 6, 1963, the Board adopted a resolution determining the general prevailing rate of per diem wages to be paid to the various craftsmen and laborers required to construct said improvements, a copy of which wage scale is contained in and made a part of the specifications for said work, to which reference is hereby made for further particulars.

All proposals or bids shall be accompanied by a cashier's or certified check payable to the order of the District, amounting to ten per cent (10%) of the bid, or by a bond in said amount and payable to said District signed by the bidder and a corporate surety, or by the bidder and two sureties who shall justify before any officer competent to administer an oath, in double said amount and over and above all statutory exemptions. Said check shall be forfeited or said bond shall become payable to said District in case the bidder depositing the same does not, within 15 days after written notice that the contract has been awarded to him, enter into a contract with the District.

Contractor shall furnish to District a faithful performance bond and labor and material bond as required in said specifications.

Said sealed proposals shall be delivered to the Secretary of said District on or before 7:30 o'clock P.M. of the 10th day of June, 1963, Ricketts Building, Carmel, California, said time being at least fourteen days from the time of publication of this notice. Bids will be publicly opened, examined and declared on said day and hour.

A copy of the plans and specifications may be obtained from the Secretary of the District, Ricketts Building, Carmel, California, or Kennedy Engineers, 604 Mission Street, San Francisco, California, upon deposit therefor of $5.00, which will be refunded to contractors submitting a bona fide bid to the City.

Festival Award

Howell Armor's driftwood sculpture, "Morning Star, Madonna and Child," received an award in the 16th annual Madonna Festival, which opened Sunday at the Willshire Methodist Church in Los Angeles. Other Carmel artists whose work, submitted under the auspices of the Carmel Art Association, was accepted for showing at the festival were Ethlyn Crouch, Nell Walker Warner and Barbara West, all exhibiting oil paintings; and Liesel Wurzmahn, sculpture.

John Dykes, San Jose sculptor whose work is often seen at Dorothy Beach's gallery in the Carmel Craft Center, was also an award winner at the festival.

"THE BOYFRIEND"

By Sandy Wilson

Directed by Rhea Diveley

U.S. NAVY POSTGRADUATE SCHOOL

The Cast

Marie Beth Hall, Nell Swanson, Patti Wier, Sara Hane Smith, Wendy Dorsky, Diane Greenhalgh, Mimi Cooper, Mary Cone.

Larry Los, Russ Weidman, Don Camp, Bob Reed, Les Gipson, Julia Adams, Dennis Bisek.

John Boles, Al Henry, Don Hindorff, Charlotte Maas, Craig Hubler, John Gilbertson, Marlene Paige, Mallie Moore.

Reviews usually are read by three categories of people: those who wish to have the benefit of somebody's opinion to determine whether they should see a show or not; those who have seen the show and want to read somebody else's opinion to see if it conforms to their own observations or not; and the cast.

With this review, I salute the cast. But I cannot — unfortunately — excite anybody to go and see the show, for it is finished. Ordinarily, in these circumstances, I would probably refrain from any mention at all, believing that a review at such a time had lost a major part of its usefulness. But this show was so good that comment is deserved, if only as an enthusiastic salutation.

This production by the Little Theater Group of the Naval Postgraduate School proved how completely delightful musical comedy is when performed by an amateur cast thoroughly inoculated with enthusiasm, provided with imaginative direction, costuming and choreography, and richly endowed with that essential element, an orchestra.

Or, how long has it been since you've heard a zestful overture performed as live music by an orchestra in the pit? It is one of the most exciting elements of musical comedy, and it can infuse the whole evening with tingling stimulation.

This show was stunning. It zinged, it pranced, it rollicked. The play itself, frivolous and innocent nonsense from an era (the 1920s) which seems impossibly naive today, could have been a dreadfully gauche spectacle. Instead, it bubbled with fun, with cleverness, with lively imagination. It rang and rocked with the genuine exuberance of the cast, an infection which spread its laughter and song to the audience.

It was a show which anybody on the Peninsula who wanted to have a good time should have seen.

A particular salute is deserved by Rhea Diveley for her skillful use of pace and broad comedy; to Jerry Skeels for some truly stunning choreography. And a whole constellation of stars in the eyes to vivacious Nell Swanson, a delightful talent in a petite package.

Next at Studio

Open 17 May, The Studio Theatre's next attraction will be "The Glass Menagerie" by Tennessee Williams. Possibly Williams' best known and most moving play, its production, under the direction of Charles Thomas, will include a cast of top-flight Peninsula actors.

The final three performances of "The Sound of Murder" will be on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights.

Circle Workshop

Fifteen to 25 students are expected to enroll next month for the second annual workshop in theatre at the Golden Bough Circle. Offered as an extension course by the Division of Speech Arts, Fresno State College, the workshop will keep its participants busy morning, afternoon and evening from 17 June to 3 September. They will rehearse and perform, in collaboration with actors from the community, a major production to be offered on weekends throughout the latter half of the summer. They will also prepare a number of experimental productions for public presentation on week nights and Sunday afternoons. Class will occupy five afternoons a week.

Six units of upper-division college credit, as well as a wealth of theatrical experience, will be accumulated by those who enroll. The only requirement for admission is a high school diploma, although a large portion of last year's students were college drama majors and teachers in service.

Brochures and application forms may be obtained by writing to the Director, Theatre Workshop, P.O. Box AL, Carmel.

Housing for students from out of town is being sought by the Monterey Peninsula Community Theatre, a co-sponsor of the venture. Inexpensive rooms in Carmel will be brought to the attention of students, if landlords will phone addresses and rates to the Circle Theatre as soon as possible.

Paul Stookey, a cadaverous baritone with mournful eyes, is the comic voice of the group, specializing in imitations and sound effects.

New Yorker Peter Yarrow, who studied violin and guitar, showed a promising career as a painter. "My esthetic beliefs," Peter says, "were established early through my painting. I'm a disciple of a symmetrical balance, which I found translatable to the guitar. It strongly shapes my approach to folk music."

Tickets to the Monterey Folk Festival, 17, 18, 19 May, are available at the Central Box Office in Carmel and at Abinante Music Store, Monterey. At the 1 p.m. program on Sunday, children who accompany their families will be able to have a reserved seat for only $1.00.

Jazz Concert

The Monterey Peninsula College Jazz Band will present its first annual Spring Concert on Sunday at 8:30 p.m. in Sunset Auditorium, Carmel.

The event, sponsored by the MPC Band Club, will present Patricia Coker and student Butch Williams, jazz vocalists, as guests.

Special instrumentalists will include Ray Fabrizio, MPC English instructor, on the flute and alto saxophone; Jerry Coker, music instructor who directs the band, on the tenor saxophone; Jim Pickford, flute and tenor sax; Dave Morse and Allen Kincaid, tenor sax; Jack Stock and Geoff Sharp, trombones; and Webster Young, trumpet.

Other band members — all students in a college class taught by Coker — are Bill Atwood, Jim Cole, George Doolis, Dean Kinney, Jim Zimmerman, Hart Smith, Dick Burley, Norman Disher and Virgil Gonsalves.

A varied program will include several original numbers and arrangements by Coker and band members.

Tickets, inexpensively priced, may be purchased at the door on the evening of the concert.

Flute, Harp, Viola

Three musicians, Raymond Fabrizio, flutist; Joel Andrews, harpist; and Robert James, violist will combine to present a concert of chamber music at Monterey Peninsula College tomorrow evening.

The group, which performs under the name of "The Lyra Trio," will play at 8:30 p.m. in the MPC Music Hall. The public is invited to attend without charge.

MPC faculty member Raymond Fabrizio, local member of the ensemble, was first flute for several years with the Carmel Bach Festival, and is a longtime member of the Monterey County Symphony. A member of the San Francisco Chamber Players, which often presents concerts at Nepenthe, he also plays with the San Francisco Symphony, San Francisco Little Symphony and the San Francisco Ballet.

When Joel Andrews, founder of the group, presented a solo recital at The California Palace of the Legion of Honor, San Francisco, critic Alfred Frankenstein commented: "... a most remarkable virtuoso and musician." Andrews, who has discovered several special effects which have never been heard before on a harp, has appeared here with the Monterey County Symphony, and in a recital at the Steinbeck Theatre.

Robert James will replace regular ensemble member Mary James (no relation) as violist at the 10 May concert. James has performed in chamber music concerts in the San Francisco Bay Area. He also plays with the San Francisco Symphony, opera and ballet.

Included in the MPC program will be "Serenade No. 10 for Flute and Harp," by Vincent Persichetti, and "Sonata for Flute, Viola and Harp," by Claude Debussy. Also played will be works by Marcello, Couperin, Ravel, Hindemith and Salzedo.

Symphony Week

The Monterey County Symphony Association will hold its second annual Symphony Week drive from 13 through 19 May. The campaign will stress support of the symphony through contributions, memberships, and the sale of season tickets for the 1963-64 series.

Mrs. Walter Jennings, local chairman of the Symphony Week committee, has stated that the organization aims through this drive to increase contributing memberships in the Symphony Association by at least 50 percent, and to sell out the symphony series on a season basis.

Symphony Week will open and close with two important musical events. The final concerts of the current season, a performance of Honneger's music drama, "King David," will take place in Salinas and Carmel on 13 and 14 May, respectively. At the end of the week will be the final judging in the orchestra's Young Artists String Awards competition, now in progress. Winner of the contest, open to California string instrumentalists 30 years of age or under, will be chosen by 19 May.

Throughout the week, symphony volunteers will sell the symphony series on a person-to-person basis. A special telephone campaign will be conducted Wednesday through Saturday of that week, and, in addition, symphony information booths will be set up in various places of business on the Peninsula.

During the present season the Symphony Association has been able to obtain enough community support to meet the needs of the current budget, and to offset a $3,000 deficit which faced it at the beginning of the season. The organization is hopeful of equalling and increasing this accomplishment during the forthcoming Symphony Week drive.

At the final concert, carnations will be presented to all symphony patrons who have signed up for the 1963-64 season. Aim of the Symphony Association is to sell out the house on a season basis, and to see a flower-bedecked audience on 14 May.

S. Fletcher Dutton, president of the Monterey County Symphony Association, has announced preliminary details of the eighteenth symphony season.

Heading the list of soloists for the coming year will be the internationally celebrated mezzo-soprano, Nan Merriman, whose abilities have won her a place within the ranks of today's great singers. An important newcomer to the concert stage, pianist Bela Szilagi, will also make his debut with the orchestra. As a winner of the Leventritt Award, one of the most important competitions for young American artists, Mr. Szilagi has already established himself in the tradition of Leon Fleisher and Van Cliburn.

Third of the season's soloists will be the winner of the Young Artists String Awards, now being sponsored by the Monterey County Symphony. The Hartnell Community Chorus and the Monterey Peninsula College Chorus will also be heard during the season.

Repertoire highlights will include the performance of such major works as Beethoven's Symphony No. 7, Dvorak's Symphony No. 5 ("The New World"), and Brahms' "A German Requiem."

Further information regarding season tickets may be obtained from the Monterey County Symphony, Box 3851, Carmel, or by calling MA 4-4125.

ALLELUIA

Chorusing,
Magic-touched by spring,
Color-joyous poppies
Transpose still brown to rippling gold;
Breeze-bowed,
The blossoms in nasturtium beds
Seem to laugh aloud:
And berry blooms, restrained in white,
Filled with fruitfulness,
Hug the earth with glee,
Jubilee.

— CLAUDINE KEINONEN

UNION SQUARE

What shall we say in spring, to the ones who sense the quickened pulse?
When cinerarias glow in Union Square, cobalt, indigo, purple of Tyre?
Iridescent breasts of pigeons flash,
rising into the sun?
Babies' great eyes follow the wings,
fluttering, veering, circling?
What shall we say in spring
when, out of breath, out of space,
the cable car masters the hill?
From the sea steals the odor
of tarred rope on teak,
and the tang of salt spray on the tongue — in the harbor, the hoarse cry torn from the throat of fog.

— ALICE REGAN

RIVER RODEO

Lumbermen ride logs through Falls I shot in a canoe.
Here boys in tires race and whirl
Swaying with the rapids swirl.
Who coasts the falls without spill
Wins the prize for poise and skill.
Swiftly they go reeling by,
Splashed and happy, wet or dry.
Down the bucking course they spin
As stream and rider fight to win.

Sports Cars

By ED LESLIE

I cannot remember when winter provided us with so much greenery, so much beauty to look upon, as it has this year.

Spring has been supplied with more water and nature has really outdone herself this year! You will probably never have a better reason to flip down the top of your sportscar and drive out our Valley, down our coastline, or over into the vast fields of wildflowers in Hunter Liggett and the Salinas Valley. I urge you to admit that you never get around to enjoying this most beautiful place, and force yourself into taking a relaxing ride out into the country this weekend!

One of the prettiest trips possible was taken by the Pebble Beach Sports Car Club last Sunday. Called the annual Nacimiento Rally, it wanders down the Coast Highway for 65 miles, to a point six miles below Lucia, and it is gorgeous! Turn left on the 17-mile dirt road (it was just graded) up and over the Coast Range into the miles of flat range land cleared of brush and dotted with huge oaks, and absolutely carpeted with bright purple Lupin. Lunch at the San Antonio Mission restaurant and then drive north, by Jolon and back toward The Indians, thence up and over a real mountain trail — or road, if you are used to this area — and down into the Arroyo Seca from its innermost reaches.

The climax to the trip is the drive into the Carmel Valley on the nicely paved winding road, the country prettier than it has ever been! Try it. Try it, and then try to explain why anyone would want to live here and not be able to slip their top down and see it all!

Sports car racing will have one of its biggest days ever this Sunday at Cotati. Actually, both Saturday and Sunday make up this Divisional Championship event, and both days would make a wonderful weekend for you. But perhaps you'd like to do as some friends plan to do, and take Saturday to drive all the way up the coast on Highway One, double over to Santa Rosa for the big races all day Sunday, and return home.

This Cotati Race has just grown to the biggest ever, attracting 270 entries, plus the race for Grand Prix motorcycles and for small sedans! It's unbelievable, but the cars and drivers entered, rival anything we've had before. You see, points are to be awarded for all the Pacific coast and every fast car from L.A. will be there, plus many others.

The Ford Cobras are coming, with Dave McDonald and Allan Grant (he's the one you'll soon hear more of) driving. The famous MG-B of Ronnie Buchnum, the new RS Porsche-engined 1000-lb. car for Ken Miles, every big modified car on the coast and 31 Formula Jrs. will meet the green flag! Best you go!

By this time next year Cotati should be covered with construction work and this may be the finale in the location, just five miles south of Santa Rosa, about 40 miles north of the Golden Gate Bridge and a pretty trip both ways. A lot of us go up through Oakland and across the Richmond-San Rafael bridge, returning down Highway One.

Lots of local interest this time, too. Wester and I are going to have at it again, in three classes this time, modified, D. production and Formula Jr. But the biggest thing we want to see is the first race for Bill Wellborn's Alfa, in Class F.

Bill has worked all winter on this little car. It should be somewhat fast.

Bill Ijams proved his Porsche Speedster to be extremely fast, before losing a fan belt at Stockton, and he hopes to "swoop-em-in" in the 30-car Porsche class E race.

Junior Parsons still hopes that his new and fastest of all cars will be here by then, but the engine seems lost in flight from Cosworth in London and he may not make the grid.

LAW IN ACTION

A SKI TRIP

Jane Smith was about to grab the ski tow to the top of the hill when another skier, out of control, plowed into her and hurt her badly.

The skier himself had no money. He could not pay for the harm he did. So she sued the ski tow man for not seeing to her safety.

The accident took place at the bottom of the tow where all skiers finished their runs near a sign saying "load here." But Jane failed to see the skier until he hit her. In these circumstances she might just as well have been looking out for her own safety.

At least the court said so: Jane had assumed a legal risk when she went skiing. She should have expected that someone might lose control on the hill and hit her. The tow people had no legal control over the skiers once they were in their way.

At one extreme are such things as railroads, buses, airplanes. They are "common carriers." Legally, they owe the public "utmost care."

But at the other extreme are such high risk sports as auto racing, parachute jumping, or water skiing. Participants and even spectators go in for them with their eyes open. They assume great risks and have no claim for damages if they don't look out for themselves.

Often those who do the harm owe their victim nothing legally—a badly sliced golf ball, or a car roaring out of control, for example, may be nobody's fault. They are just one of the sport's inherent dangers which you must look for at times, and do what you can to guard against them.

But the participants do assume some risks. A person enrolled in a ski class, for example, may well have a right to some legal protection, at least more than a skier on his own. For a novice may have the right to look to his instructor for protection. As a rule, a spectator also has a right to rely on the grandstand which the promoters can control to be safe enough.

Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

"The Devil With Love"

Dr. K. Fillmore Gray will review Robert Nathan's "The Devil with Love," at 7:30 p.m. tonight at the Church of the Wayfarer Fellowship Hall. The story deals with a middle-aged man who wishes to be young again and so sells his soul to the devil for this privilege.

This will be the second of a series of three book reviews sponsored by the Couples Club of the church to pay for agricultural scholarships at the Chinzei Gakuin School in Japan. Mrs. A. H. Scheldrup is general chairman of the project.

After this evening's program there will be a coffee and sweets hour in charge of Mrs. William Howard Church, assisted by Mrs. Rudd A. Crawford and Mrs. Gordon Smith. Mrs. Jerry Barker, Mrs. Howard K. Hogue and Mrs. K. Fillmore Gray will pour.

Single admission tickets may be obtained at the door.

Rummage Sale

The Churchwomen of All Saints' Episcopal Church will hold their annual rummage sale in the Parish Hall, Lincoln and Ninth, on Thursday, 16 May, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Co-chairmen are Mrs. Joe McEldowney, Jr., and Mrs. James Neill. The Men's Club, under the chairmanship of Richard Hittinger, will be in charge of the garden and patio department. A snack bar will be in operation all day, according to Mrs. John Rennels and her kitchen crew.

Browse, buy, and benefit the Churchwomen's many good works.

Swim Party

Mrs. Ralph Weston, director of the Allegro Music and Swim School in Carmel, gave a swim party Saturday afternoon for a group of her students in the three-to-12 age group.

The young guests enjoyed the indoor pool, and demonstrations were given by Mary Jane Lang of Monterey Peninsula College, and Edith Cline of Pebble Beach.

Dinkin Show at Gallery

A one-man show of Edith Dinkin (Mrs. Larry Berkoben) paintings will be on view in the Beardsley Room of the Carmel Art Association until 4 June.

A noted, prize-winning Carmel artist, she served on the association's board of directors, 1961-62. She also maintains a studio at the Carmel Craft Studios. The pictures shown will be almost entirely from her Seattle period. She has recently returned to Carmel from that city, where her last show was in the Kinorn Gallery there.

Exciting Art Auction

Attracting visitors from around San Francisco Bay, and the Sacramento and San Joaquin Valley areas, the fourth annual Beacon House Art Auction, 19 May, will be held this year in the Mission Ranch Party Room, Carmel, instead of its usual site at the Tenis Ranch in Carmel Valley. This, it is felt, will afford interested buyers a better view of the paintings to be auctioned.

Among the artists contributing are Leonard Heller, past president of the local chapter of the American Federation of Arts; Harold and Maybelle Landaker, John Cunningham, Sam Manning, Linford Donovan, James Vance, Cush Walker, Donald Teague, C. J. Ryland, Nancy Johnson, Henrietta and Stanley Pearce, Virginia Fry, Zyta Laky, Howard Bobbs, Jeanne D'Orge Cherry, Ephraim Doner and Thomas Hamill.

Reservations, including the buffet luncheon from 12 noon to 2 p.m., may be obtained by calling Mrs. Virginia Frank, chairman and coordinator, FR 5-3607, or the ACMP office, MA 4-2256.

Proceeds will go to Beacon House.

Lady and Tiger

So many people, loving to live on the Monterey Peninsula, find that they must establish some sort of business here. The unique one, to date, seems to be that of Caryl Hill of Carmel. She is the owner of the "Ananga-Ranga" Trading Co.

Pretty Miss Hill's company deals in the import of tiger, leopard, zebra, wolf and sheep skins (there must be something about wolves' and sheep's clothing in there somewhere), and, as tamer imports, tea and jade. These skins are guaranteed soft on either side. Perfect for rugs, bed-throws, car blankets, couch covers; and ideal for taking pictures of the status-seeking baby. "Ananga-Ranga" was named for the companion volume of the famous Indian "Kama-Sutra." If you don't know what that is, ask your librarian and expect a most interesting answer.

Assistant Welcomers

Senior Girl Scouts International Aides who assisted in welcoming the museum professionals from 14 foreign countries as they arrived yesterday to begin their three-day visit to the Peninsula were from troops at Pacific Grove and Monterey High Schools, led by Mrs. Allen A. Mitchell and Mrs. E. C. Crittenden, respectively. They were Bonnie Bailey, Cynthia Harris, Susanne Hering, Diane Holzer, Marie Langston, Sue Manning, Sherry Mitchell, Paula Niel, Sandra Peckham and Sybilla Sujana.

Most of the countries represented by the visitors have active Girl Scout or Girl Guide programs in which their museums participate. The local scouts have been learning about the customs and culture of the visitors' countries, and as International Aides are taking particular interest in assisting the Committee on Foreign Visitors of the Monterey Peninsula World Affairs Council, Mrs. Margaret C. Stebbins, chairman.

Hospitality for Conference

Visitors to the World Affairs Council conference on Asia at Asilomar were welcomed on their arrival Friday afternoon by members of a special hospitality committee of the World Affairs Council of the Monterey Peninsula, which was headed by Mrs. Tod Singleton of Carmel.

Tea was served to several hundred guests in the Administration Building lobby in an Asian setting of purple and gold against a backdrop of an heirloom Paisley shawl. An oriental flower arrangement of iris was the work of Mme. Yoshiko Tanimoto. Service was from large brass samovars and brass and teakwood trays, with Mrs. Carl Hering, Mrs. Fletcher Dutton, Mrs. Reuben Johnson, Mrs. Hans Von Richter, Mrs. Mast Wolfson, Mrs. Margaret Stebbins and Mrs. Laura Lee presiding. Mrs. Violet Dabney, Mrs. Margaret Stebbins and Mrs. Fletcher Dutton assisted Mrs. Singleton in the arrangements.

Four Senior Girl Scouts who have just completed their training as International Aides also assisted at the tea table: Cynthia Harris, Susanne Hering, Sherry Mitchell and Sandra Peckham.

Tea In French

Mrs. Francisco Ferro of Carmel will host a tea on Thursday, 16 May, to which members of L'Alliance Francaise of the Monterey Peninsula are cordially invited.

This will be one of the monthly teas with only French conversation spoken.

Guests are asked to arrive at 3 p.m., and to telephone their acceptance either to Mrs. James L. Hathaway, FR 2-1138; to Mrs. J. E. Carlson, MA 4-3195; or to the tea hostess, Mrs. Ferro, MA 4-7495. A small donation from each person who attends will help toward L'Alliance's annual scholarship.

At Medical Meeting

Dr. Donald M. Scanlon, of Carmel, was among representatives from eight northern California counties at a special Heart Association leadership meeting last week in San Francisco.

The gathering at the St. Francis Hotel was called by the California Heart Association to discuss improvement in the organization's activities for post-graduate medical education. Dr. Scanlon described activities of the Monterey Heart unit. Delegates from other areas were particularly interested in his description of the annual Physicians Symposium held at Fort Ord.

pus today, Gerald was chosen for scholastic excellence throughout his university career.

The nephew of Mrs. Howard Ross of Carmel, he will graduate from Davis next month.

Bon Voyage Luncheon

At the end of May, Mr. and Mrs. Frank de Amaral will fly to Germany by way of the Azores, Portugal, London and Paris. Their special destination is Heidelberg, where they will visit their son and daughter-in-law, Captain and Mrs. Frank de Amaral, and their three grandchildren.

On Thursday Mrs. John Canoles, and fellow members of an informal bridge group of several years' standing, entertained at a luncheon and handkerchief shower at Pine Inn in honor of Mrs. de Amaral. Wishing her a bon voyage were Mrs. George King and her daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Stalker; Mrs. Peter Kutschera, Mrs. Robert Forbes, Miss Lucy Mills, and Miss Phil Crecelius. Unable to be present because of illness was Mrs. Alex Bolm.

Speaks At Class

The manuscript of "Junipero Serra," with a teen-age Indian as narrator, has just been completed by Beulah Karney (Mrs. William G. Powers) of Carmel Valley, and will be published early next year. Its portrayal of the early history of California in this area will add a fourth to Mrs. Powers' list of successful novels: "The Keepers of the Bell," "Wild Imp," a Junior Literary Guild selection for older boys; and "The Listening Ones," a high school age historical work with a California heroine.

Mrs. Powers outlined her methods of research, conception and revision for Mrs. Maxine Shore's class, "Writing for Publication," at Carmel High School Tuesday evening, and spoke of the part the subconscious plays in all creative activity. "It is the stored knowledge of the world," she said, "and comes from God. Regardless of your religious belief, it is something inside you. Planning helps, then relaxation into it. Go to bed thinking about it and allow it to unfold."

Week-end Whirl

Dr. and Mrs. Francis Hatch of Modesto, well known and liked on our Peninsula, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Bull Pringle, Jr., this weekend past. They were feted at a dinner by the Pringles on Saturday night; enjoyed an informal picnic co-hosted by Dr. and Mrs. A. Carol McKenney, within sight of the lovely old buildings in San Juan Batista; and brunching on Sunday with the McKennys.

Saturday Play-Reading

Murray Schisgal's "The Typist and the Tiger" is the play chosen by the Saturday night play-reading group, composed for the most part of Church in the Round members, which will meet this week at the home of Miss Portia Mansfield and Miss Charlotte Perry, on Casanova and Eighth, at 8 p.m.

Interested persons may call Mrs. Hugh Bayless, MA 4-8760, for further information.

Wynn-Crowley Wedding

"Just for the family" was the charming wedding of Jean Aydelott Wynn and Lieutenant John Francis Crowley, U.S.M.C., at the Carmel home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Leslie Emery, on Sunday afternoon, 5 May, at 4 p.m.

Judge Richard Maury Sims of Marin County read the ceremony, with the bride's cousin, Hilary Sims, and Marine Lieutenant Robert McAteer in attendance.

Jean, daughter of the late Lee Aydelott, wore a pale blue Italian silk suit, much admired by her young son, Richard Lee Wynn. John, son of Mrs. J. Crowley, and the late Mr. Crowley, of Merced, is stationed at the Marine Corps' Air Facility in Santa Ana. After an appropriately undisclosed honeymoon, the couple will live in Jean's Corona Del Mar home until future orders.

Cradle-Rocking

The ninth annual cradle-rocking service will be held at 9:15 a.m. on Sunday, Mothers' Day, at All Saints' Church. The service officially registers the babies on the church school roll, and each one is welcomed by being rocked in a cradle at the altar while the sponsors sing a lullaby.

Mrs. Russell Townsend, Mrs. Cecil Paul, Mrs. Robert L. Goulding, Mrs. John Rennels, Mrs. Vernon G. Larsen, Mrs. Ralph W. Thompson, and Mrs. William A. Sanford, all members of St. Ursula's Guild, are in charge of this year's service.

The babies to be rocked at this year's service are: Jeffrey Banerman, David and Howard Baxter, Sarah Jean Beaver, Theresa Ann Beneventi, Dorrie Elizabeth Brown, Susan Durbrow, Jane Byron Campbell, Garth Emrich, Michael Gatje, Bryan Graham, Amy Hittinger, Jeffrey Johnson, Michael Mills, William Mudd, Susan Neville, Jill Padgham, Scott Raymond, Katherine Anne Rominger, Eric Schroeder, Jon Sterling Smith, and Diane Wilson.

Where There's Life...

By Andre Hope

This is the week when we are reminded to be especially kind to our furred, feathered, generally untethered, four- and two-footed, pawed and clawed friends. Take a mink to lunch (preferably not full length and cut to your size). Better still, take your veterinarian to lunch — a much put-upon, over-worked and under-looked scientist, so extremely important to our society.

Herein, an interview or two from the Carmel citizens being honored. Naturally, we first spoke to the second lady of Carmel, companion to His Honor, Mayor Whittlesey.

"Miss Reagan, are you now and have you always been a native Californian?"

"Indeed, yes. Though I am a direct descendant of a distinguished ancestor who migrated from Germany." (Ladies always like this aristocracy bit; however, Reagan's claim is valid.) "I was born in San Raphael at Guide Dogs for the Blind." The lady, in her usual candid fashion, also admits to being six. On personal matters she tells us that her favorite food is bones — on special occasions. Her hobbies and recreation: catching tennis balls, finding holes in the fence, and going to the beach. Two of her best friends happen to be the Whittleseys' household cats. A true intellectual, neither prejudice nor segregation concerning the feline world has ever occurred to her. When asked about her official duties, she rested her lovely muzzle upon a graceful paw before answering. Yes, she does enjoy her work, admitting, however, to being unable to control a groan from time to time at council meetings and in church. She also tells us that neither is she troubled with insomnia during many such gatherings. We will quote directly her answer when asked to speak a few words to her constituents on the subject of "Be Kind to Animals Week."

"Please remind all large dogs that small dogs should not be chased too vigorously, no matter how loudly they bark or whatever provocation they may give. This is a circumstance which well-bred dogs must bear and remember to retain their composure. It is permissible, nonetheless, to give a small amount of excitement to our little friends to satisfy their egos. After making a study of it, I find that people are not so bad to live with — as long as we don't get involved with their politics!" As to the identity of the number one man in her life — need you ask?

Also, having a word or two to say: Caro Mignon (Coco, for "sweetheart") Philips, 9-year-old grande dame poodle of Mr. and Mrs. James Philips of Carmel. A gourmet, she favors custard. The treasured toy, a clean, old, knotted sock. Coco's favorite sport is being loved. When asked to speak on this special week, she said, "Be Kind to Animals Week? Is there anyone who isn't? A lady of my type simply doesn't associate with that sort!"

Pheemy and Brandy, the dachshies who infest our bed and board, also add an arf or two of their own. "Be Kind to Animals Week? Whoever isn't — let us at 'em!" To be remembered: Brewsie, sire of Pheemy... Snoopheter, the cat who walked by himself and shed all over everyone on the way... Desi, a gentleman who died of love and the pursuit of happiness... Gabriel of the Willows, pursuing same, age 14... Buster, born with a black eye and a happy heart... Sherman, a maiden tortoise, mascot of the "Turtle Herders' Association." They all observed "Be Kind to Humanity" 52 weeks a year; a festival unfortunately not yet celebrated by humans.

PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the BOARD OF ADJUSTMENTS of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, California, at a Meeting to be held in the Council Chamber of said City, on WEDNESDAY, 22 MAY, 1963, at the hour of 4 o'clock P.M., or as soon thereafter as the matters can be heard, will consider and act upon the following:

APPLICATION of DR. HENRY HARPER for a Variance of 10% in setback requirements, specifically 12 inches to allow open back width of 7 feet, on the North side of 4th Street between Lincoln and Monte Verde Streets, being on the West one-half of Lots 17 and 19, Block 32, Addn. 3, Carmel.

APPLICATION of SHELL OIL COMPANY for a Conditional Use Permit for construction of a new Service Station in nC-1-S Zone, on the Southeast corner of San Carlos and 5th Street, being Lots 2 and 4, Block 57, Carmel.

Said Applications are made under the provisions of Sections 1332 (a), 1303.70 (6), 1303.71 and 1303.72 of the Municipal Code of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, California.

Away We Go

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Fletcher of Pebble Beach are embarking on a vacation, spiced with the wide variety of pleasure that traveling in the States can provide, starting with Palm Springs and terminating in Stonington, Connecticut.

Sport Cars...

(Continued from Page Eleven) Anyway you look at it, there is no excuse whatever, to let another weekend go by sitting on your cushion watching TV when you can get out and see this country in its finest! Is there?

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Leslie's enthusiasm is infectious. If everybody who should, catches a lethal dose of it, all of Carmel will evacuate our streets and run joyously over the landscape, to Cotati and Arroyo Seca; to Hunter Liggett and Oakland (Oakland?) This should leave Carmel's streets free for the tourists, as they should be.)

Heron Wedding

(Continued from Page One) dent of a youth organization. A lady of many talents, she has written poetry, directed for the Carmel Foundation, and taken vocal training in connection with the Christian Science Church.

Bert Heron founded the Forest Theatre in 1910, and it was here that he and Valerie met, some 10 years ago. A resident of Carmel since 1908, Bert has twice been mayor of the town, directed more than 50 plays, also acted in many, and is a poet who has published in both American and British magazines.

This is one of those happy circumstances when it can honestly be said, "It couldn't happen to two nicer people!"

ABOUT TOURISTS, VISITORS, AND THE LOCALS

TOURISTS... Tourists are people in cameras, aloha shirts and/or muu-muus. They have come to look at us out of a sense of duty as a part of seeing America first, and see us primarily as quaint pages in their scrapbooks or frames on their moving picture screens. They prefer neon lights, sidewalks and street addresses. They do talk about returning on some future vacation, but of course, you wouldn't want to live in that kooky town. They can't find our office.

VISITORS... On the other hand, Visitors are non-residents who come to see us frequently because they have a continuing love affair with our Village and our ocean. They actually walk on our beaches, buy things in our shops, and only the sheer impracticality of uprooting themselves from their present businesses elsewhere prevents their becoming Locals. They always stop to see us when they are here.

LOCALS... Locals are people who, through the kind permission of the Gods, live in Carmel permanently. They walk on the beaches when the tourists are gone and the sun isn't. They shop when the shops aren't crowded, and they even know where to find a parking place. They have lived all over the world and have chosen Carmel for their permanent way of life. They use their library cards, play instruments, paint pictures, or make things, or appreciate those who do. They have all the virtues—are kind, good, sweet and pure. If your dog gets lost, you hope he was found by a Local.

LIKE TO BECOME A LOCAL? We'd be happy to interview you and, if you qualify, would consider it a privilege to help you find a home here. Finding our office is the first test.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

Man's search for his real place in the universe will be taken up by the Christian Science churches

this Sunday in a Bible Lesson en-itled, "Adam and Fallen Man."

The service begins at 11 a.m., in

First Church of Christ, Scientist.

A main theme of the Lesson will be presented in this verse from I Corinthians (15:22): "For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive."

Related readings include this passage: "Christ presents the indestructible man, whom Spirit creates, constitutes, and governs.

Christ illustrates that blending with God, his divine Principle, which gives man dominion over all the earth" ("Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, p.

316).

Kip Site

will be constructed this summer in cooperation with the Valley's St. Dunstan's mission. It will provide for the instruction of 60 to 80 pupils at first, and eventually may be enlarged to seven classrooms.

On next Tuesday night, the parents of children attending Bishop Kip will meet with the Associate Rector, Rev. Peter Farmer, to hear plans for the permanent site.

The two-year use permit for the temporary occupation by the school of All Saints' facilities will expire in June of this year, and it had been rumored that an extension would be sought, an act certain to have aroused more of the vigorous opposition which had objected to the initial permit. But, with the successful conclusion of negotiations for the new site, no issue will remain in contention.

The pastor, Father David Hill, has said that there are not any plans at the moment for other use of the present facilities, once Bishop Kip School leaves.

MPC Fight

The faculty complaints against Huber of irresolution, arbitrariness and lethargy were made to the Board some time ago, in supposedly executive sessions which were, nonetheless, exhaustively reported in the Monterey Peninsula Herald, though the public was barred from attending.

Huber's response, a heated refu-tation of the charges, was made later, and figured in the recent elections which unseated Board president, Brooks Lockhart, a known Huber supporter.

Shortly thereafter, Huber, with the apparent acquiescence of the Board, notified Vice President Richard V. Matteson and Dean of Instruction Max Tadlock that they would be relieved of their administrative duties at the conclusion of this term, thus "de-frocking"

two of his most vociferous opponents. Dean of Students Ralph Smith, who has taken a leave of absence to go to Utah for another assignment, is rumored to have indicated that he will not return so long as Huber remains president.

It is reported that, as things
now stand, Huber intends to replace all but one of the present administrative officials.

Council Scans

When budget sessions commence in July, and the Council is obliged to allocate funds already received (about $25,000) as well as those anticipated for the next fiscal year, they will be forewarned by last night's proceedings that opinions other than their own will be waiting for them.

In the meanwhile, the review has been postponed to November, when one complete year's experience in tax collection and effect will have transpired.

Erehwon

Also, in a dizzy display of inconsistency, the Council found that emergencies were relative.

A month ago, it rejected a request for $1,200 to provide orchestral concerts at the Forest Theater this summer, not on the grounds that music is dangerous, but because the precedent to go into the Contingency Fund for something that wasn't regularly budgeted and wasn't an emergency — would be dangerous.

But when it came to spending $325 for a mimeograph machine for the City Clerk's office—which wasn't regularly budgeted, either — dangerous precedence had disappeared, and the emergency evidently was upon them.

On the questionable assertion of Hugh Bayless that, in some mysterious way, it would save money, they voted the funds — and left the operations budget just where it had been without the new magic machine.
